

What would it mean to you and your business to spend a full day with a pro?

Coaching from nationally-known comedian/motivational speaker/humorist Brad Montgomery

Are you looking to invest in your business? The smart and successful presenters know that the single best marketing we can do is to have a great program. What are you doing to make that happen?

I know you're busy. I know you're "too close" to your own presentation to work on it the way you should. I know you want and need an experienced pro (who knows and understands the presentation of humor and comedy). And I know it is just plain hard to sit still for a full day and concentrate on improving your product. Good news: we have an answer.

Come to wonderful Denver, Colorado with Brad Montgomery for a full day of Brad and receive his undivided attention and the benefit of his nearly two decades in the entertainment and speaking industry.

Brad is a CSP, has thousands of programs under his belt (where they kind of tickle) and knows this biz inside and out. He is also an excellent teacher... not just of humor, but of presentation skills. And, if you believe his mom, he's a really nice guy. Do you want to get to the next level (what ever that means to you)? Here's your chance. Go for it! Get the Brad-A-Palooza Day of Coaching.

"Get to the next level," has to be one of the most over-used cliché's in the speaking and presentation business.

But let's face it... you want to get there.

If you don't take advantage of this offer, what will you do to get to the next level?

Whaduya Get?

- We'll go over video of your program minute-by-minute in a totally safe, positive way looking for strengths to build on and weaker points to improve. From this process you'll leave with an action list of specific ideas you can implement starting the very next day.
- Practice your actual keynote or presentation with Brad's feedback and coaching.
- Get practical input regarding timing, presence, and delivery.
- Work on the format and structure of the presentation.
- Confirm intro, opening, and closing are as strong as possible.
- Talk about powerpoint strategies.
- Questions and answers about the business of speaking. Here's your chance!
- You'll have access to all of Brad's paperwork: audio visual info, contracts (and the different versions of them) Pre-Program Questionnaires, database layout, gig-checklist forms... everything!
- An honest and frank discussion about the business of speaking, and Brad's best advice about how to move YOUR career to where it should be. We can strategize about everything from promo to pricing.
- A review of your promotional materials, including your preview video and website.

And of course..

- Phone and email access to Brad for the next 12 months. This one is huge!
- And, of course.... Special attention to using, incorporating and delivering more humor in your presentations.
